Villar snubs GMA ticket

Lacson says coalition with UNO a done deal

By Juliet Labang (Julienne and TJ) Burgonio

WITH SENATORIAL ASPIRATIONS, crisis-crossing party lines days before the deadline for the filing of their certificates of candidacy, Senate President Manuel Villar ruled out the possibility of his running under the administration ticket.

The re-electionist senator, who heads the chamber that has been at odds with President Macapagal-Arroyo, said he would either be with the opposition slate or with a third or middle bloc; he was still trying to form with fellow senators eligible to run for another six-year term.

"In either joining a middle force or UNO," he told the House Members, referring to named President Joseph Estrada's United Opposition, which has no far-advanced eight candidates for the 12

General finally admits he was MNLF hostage

By TJ Burgonio

AFTER DAYS OF VIGILANTISM (BANGKAY) by Malabon, Maj Gen. Benjamin Delosafra yesterday publicly admitted he and his 23-member peace mission had been taken hostage by fighters of the Moro National Liberation Front.

"In the interest sense of the word, we were hostages because we were prevented from leaving the camp," Delosafra told members of the Commission on Appointments (CA) during his confirmation hearings.

"We were in a situation in which we had no other choice but to stay," he said.

This was the first time that the head of the military's National Capital Region

Command made the admission after he and his companions were freed Sunday from two nights of detention at an MNLF camp in Purok San Isidro, Jolo.

Prior to Delosafra's statement before the CA, Malabon and the military leadership had painstakingly denied that Delosafra and his companions had been taken hostage by the MNLF, insisting that they were in the camp at the MNLF's "invitation" or "request."

Delosafra made the admission during the CA hearing called in confidence his promotion to major general.

Until yesterday, Delosafra had preferred using his prior rank of brigadier general.

SC rules vs doc, hospital over patient's death

THE SUPREME COURT HAS AFFIRMED a Court of Appeals decision finding the owner of Medical City General Hospital and a member of its surgical staff liable for the death of a patient as a result of complications arising from two pieces of gastric being left in her body during an operation.

The high court found Dr. Miguel Angil Ibalin for "medical negligence," and said the contention of Presidential Immunity Inc. (PPI), the hospital owner, that it could not be held liable for his error did not stand.

It likewise upheld the awarding of more than P3 million in damages to the family of Norvill Agaña, who died in 1986, two years after the surgery.

GMA allies in House vote to suspend Cayetano

By Michael Lee Ullas

AFTER MORE THAN FIVE HOURS OF A marathon hearing, allies of President Macapagal-Arroyo staged a 45-day suspension on House Deputy Minority Leader Alan Peter Cayetano for allegedly ordering the firing of security maintaining millions of dollars in a German bank.

Using 20-5, the administration-dominated House committee on ethics and privileges charged the opposition senator for what it deemed to be "improper conduct and capriciousness behavior."

Cayetano, who is planning for a vice-presidential run in the May elections, said the committee ruling had yet to be approved by two-thirds of the plenary before it could be carried out.

While three opposition lawmakers sided with Cayetano—Representatives Rafael Mariano, Rolito Guico and Isodoro Guioyano III—a lone congressman, Agapito "Bata" Aquino, abstained from the voting.

"I don't want to have a part in this baseless move," said Aquino.

The vote came after Cayetano refused to present evidence although he had been given two days by the committee to do so, said administration lawmakers.

Instead of presenting evidence, Cayetano had asked to be allowed to

Asia now one of world's fastest growing millionaires' clubs

SINGAPORE—WITH ROBUST economic growth, more Asia has become one of the world's fastest-growing millionaires' clubs, Asian workers are expected to enjoy the highest pay hikes on the planet this year, a survey showed yesterday.

Prime ministers have been looking to the region, and banks such as Merrill Lynch-Capgemini list that the wealth of Asian millionaires may hit $30.6 trillion in 2015.

"There is too much money chasing after too few managers, so companies have to throw more money at their managers to get them to stay," Lee Quan, CNA's Hong Kong-based general manager, told Reuters.

The other factors expected to benefit Asian workers aside from economic growth are talent shortage and lower inflation, according to the results of a survey by human resources firm ECA International, which conducted 45 interviews.

The world's top 10 countries with the highest forecasted "real" wage increases in 2007 are, in chronological order, India, Indonesia, China, the Philippines, Thailand, Slovakia, South Korea, Malaysia, Egypt and Russia.

Real wage increases, which represent workers' annual salary rises after taking inflation into account, are expected to clock an average 3.6 percent in Asia this year—a 56 percent jump from 2.4 percent in 2006.

Salaries for Asian workers may get a bigger boost because Asian economies are growing faster than the supply of talent—especially for senior managers—because falling inflation rates are lifting purchasing power, Quan said.

The survey said workers in India were set to enjoy the sharpest jump in real wages over the globe this year at 7 percent.

Fil-Ams to invest P150M in AFP bank 'for heroes'

By Davis C. Dumlao

THE LARGEST ORGANIZATION OF Filipinos based in North America will invest P150 million in Gamboa Savings Bank, owned by the Armed Forces of the Philippines, to build a bank that will serve the "real and living heroes."

In a statement, CSB announced that it had recently signed a memorandum of understanding with the Filipino Foundation for International Brotherhood, or Rapinista, for the organization's investment in the bank this year.

The capital building is in line with CSB's intention to launch new products and technologies that would transform the bank into "a major service provider to overseas Filipinos and the men and women of the Armed Forces."

Wedding video tags more suspects in Bersamin slay

By Abhin Pappa

THE VIDEO FOOTAGE OF THE wedding attended by Rep. Luis Bersamin just before he was shot dead may hold the key to solving the murder of the 35th congressman.

Criminal Investigation and Inspection Group officials yesterday said that based on the video of the Dec. 15 wedding, they have identified more suspects in the Bersamin slay case.

"We reviewed the tape of the wedding and pinpointed additional suspects," said Director Ricardo Teneo, the CIG chief.

He said he is consulting with other members of Task Force Bersamin and members of the Bersamin family to clarify the people shown in the video footage.

Investigators are particularly interested in persons appearing in the video who are not known to the Bersamin family and who were not invited to the wedding.

"Once we have identified these suspects, we can assure them, we know for a fact that one of them has a standing warrant for his arrest. So there is some light now," Teneo said.

In Rep. Magonggil Garcia Jr., the Quezon City police chief and a member of Task Force Bersamin, said investigators were focusing on persons "acting suspiciously" during the wedding.

The exact timing information from Task Force Alfa and the video, they would be able to determine if these persons were wanted before.

Because of the recent violence in the province, the Philippine National Police has taken police control of Abao, Task Force Alfa, headed by Lt. Insp. Eugene Martin, was sent to subdue the law in Abao, disarm armed groups, arrest violators of the election gun ban and other persons with a standing warrant warrants.

Bersamin was shot to death at the St. Gerard Church compound in Dec. 15 night after attending the wedding of a niece.

Police have identified four suspects—Jedee Pando, Freddie Tropo, Domestico Barrios and Tommy Bernice. Based on witnesses' accounts, there are two more unidentified suspects in the killing.

Pando, who was arrested a few days after the murder, inflamed Tropo, a former vice mayor of La Paz, Abao, and Abao's Gov. Vicente Waters in the murder of Bersamin.

He said Pando had told him before the murder that Waters had put up P5 million for the murder of Bersamin. Pando said Pando was convincing him to join the hit team.

But Pando later withdrew his confession. He is still under police custody.

Waters has denied Pando's claims.

ADOPTION CONSCIOUSNESS DAY

DSWD advice: Adopt an orphan, legally

By Cynthia Balana

A TOTAL OF 1,622 COMPANIES PUT UP FOR adoption by the Department of Social Welfare and Development last year have found new homes and families, social welfare secretary Esperanza Calalang reported yesterday.

Calalang, who spearheaded the observance of "Adoption Consciousness Day" on Feb. 3, urged prospective adoptive parents to adopt children through legal means to protect the children from being exploited.

Adopted children, Calalang stressed, have the same rights and duties as the biological children of the adoptive parents, including the right to use the surname of the adoptive family.

Calalang stressed prospective adoptive parents to go to a licensed adoption agency to ensure that proper procedures and protocols are followed. These processes include counseling, matching or selection, evaluation and custody and financial record-keeping. It goes beyond placing and placing a child in a new family, she stressed.

Help device

The DSWD will also be using its public "Adoption Help Desk" in popular malls such as those in Robinsons Mall, SM Mall of Asia, and the Quezon City Memorial Circle. These devices will be manned by DSWD personnel and trained volunteers who will assist prospective adoptive parents in the adoption process.

The said desk will also provide information on the adoption process, including the legal requirements, and the role of the adoptive family.

Calalang stressed that adoption is a legal process, and that it is important to ensure that the child is placed in a safe and loving home.

Scientists explore possible new way to fight AIDS

WASH DC—A NATIONAL Institutes of Health study is testing a new vaccine to help reduce the risk of AIDS by blocking the virus, HIV, from entering the body's immune system.

The findings represent a potential new way to fight the effects of the human immunodeficiency virus, HIV, according to U.S. National Institutes of Health scientists who said the study was published on Monday in the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Peter L. Anderson and colleagues at the NIH's National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) led the study.

MIAMI—DWAYNE WADE scored 27 points and Shaquille O'Neal had his best scoring performance since returning from knee surgery to lead the Miami Heat to a 113-93 victory over the Charlotte Bobcats on Monday night.

Wade, who scored 12 points in his last game, scored 12 for his last game, scoring 12 for his last game, scoring 12 for his last game.

The Heat played without guard Ray Allen, suspended by the league following his arrest for spiking with officials during last season's NBA All-Star Game. Dwyane Wade made his first career start with Miami on Monday.

Raymond Felton scored 20 points, and Eddy Curry and Gerald Wallace each scored 19 for the Bobcats.

In other games, it was LA Lakers 98, Atlanta 80; Golden State 112, Indiana 99; Washington 116, Seattle 98; Philadelphia 98, New York 88; UT, Houston 105, Minnesota 77; Phoenix 112, Denver 109; Utah 120, Chicago 95; Sacramento 105, New Orleans 99.

Meanwhile, New York's Ron Artest was injured in the 4th quarter after being fouled by Detroit's Ben Wallace during the game.

Wade's career points total now stands at 1,111, putting him in the top 10 of all-time scorers in the NBA. He is also the only player in the league to score 20 or more points in 10 consecutive games.

The Heat's victory was the first since Wade's return from injury. He had missed the last two games of the season.

Wade's return was a big boost for the Heat. They were 1-4 in their last five games before Wade's return. They are now 2-1 in their last three games.

Prom princesses

2bU! helps Jamila Anne Leocata and Djum

Manilla score the perfect gown for their big days

With her hair styled and makeup on, she is ready for the prom.

JUST ABOUT EVERY GIRL dreams of the perfect prom: a dazzling dress, beautiful hair and makeup, and a picture-perfect gown.

However, the girls, while fantasizing, realize that expectations that everyone can be prom queens, after all, is unrealistic. Prom queens have to ask for money from their parents not only to pay for the unexpected flowers for their prom-but also, for the dress gown and makeup services at the prom.

With this in mind, Jamila Anne Leocata and Djum Manilla (2bU! friends for about a year) asked 2bU! to help them find the perfect gown for their big day. Jamila, who went to 2bU! last Christmas, already had a jump for her gown, hair and makeup. However, she was unsure if the gown had to be made, and a new gown was brought in to help her transform into prom-queen material.

Then, on the other hand, get a prom makeover with the help of her mom, Lilibeth Manilla. Ms. Manilla initially just wanted help to find a shop that could do prom gowns, but 2bU! asked the help of several people from the fashion and beauty industries to make her daughter's makeover complete.

For the two girls, Manilla's friend of Candelaria Clothing Corporation had two dress styles from the Serenissima Prom Collection made for them. Jamila, who went to a beauty salon, got a royal apple green straight gown. Djum got a bright fuchsia long-sleeved gown for her prom-queen look, which she substituted with a glitzy look and shimmering accessories.

Lilibeth Manilla, who has makeup skills for makeup found that it is a job that will be in demand in Manila since she didn't do makeup for Jamila's prom. She used time to go to the salon and get it with her friend. Prom Queen of Candelaria Clothing Corporation had her hair and makeup done in a hair salon. A hair salon was completed the night before.

"I was amazed at how beautiful my makeup looked," Jamila said after. "Ms. Lilibeth said that I looked so good, and it was a really dramatic look on my face. Plus the dress is really nice!"

For Djum, Myra Pong did a natural, glowing look. She used light pink colors and shimmer to complement the fuchsia gown. Lilibeth Manilla, who of Candelaria Clothing Corporation, decided to go with a beautiful look to bring out her naturally lovely hair.

Jamila said, "I felt like a model and a princess at the same time. I didn't feel as nervous as I had in the past, but the experience I had was much more than the previous ones. I was in a gown, hair and makeup, and I was being made up. The experience I had was something that others could only dream of, but it was real for me. The night was simply wonderful."

Dream girl

FORMER "AMERICAN IDOL" contestant Jennifer Hudson makes an Oscar-nominated acting debut as an already-acclaimed performance in "Dreamgirls."

The film adaptation of the 2001 musical starring 1991 musical follow-up the real and a 2001 musical winner got singing group the Soul. Grammy Award-winning actress Hudson (winner), the play and film is really about Hudson's character, Effie White, the "dream" singer who looks like a dreamer but is the one girl of the group with real talent.

Hudson talks about the film, her career and her "American Idol" win.

After you lost that whole experience, what did you think you were in for?

Definitely, I didn't know the experience, and I didn't realize how much it was for me. I didn't realize how much it was for me. I didn't realize how much it was for me.

You knew you could sing, but did you know you could be the emotional center of a film?

I did not know that I was learning it as I went along. I didn't even realize that was what I was doing. I didn't even realize that was what I was doing.

When you were in "American Idol," you were the favorite. How did you feel about that?

Yeah, I mean, just her disposition, and she was the most experienced. I didn't know that was what I was doing. I didn't even realize that was what I was doing.

Think like that when "I Am Telling You" is done, and when it's over, you're in a place where you can't be a little bit of a winner.

Well, I am "Telling You" in the film is an incredibly powerful moment. When you're doing a show, you'll sing a song like that once a night or once a week. When you're making a movie, you're probably singing that song

JENNIFER Hudson has been making waves for her role in "Dreamgirls." "I'm singing." Will continue to Oscar as well again and again all day. What kind of emotional place do you get to?

Well, it's a dramatic emotional place. I usually ended up doing "I Am Telling You," "I'm Singing" and "I'm Singing" all in one week.

Like I say it once a lot of everything... and of course "I Am Telling You" is all but to finish, and that's what I say by—it's what I've learned to sing but I found it so emotional and I know when I'm singing that I know what I'm trying to get across, and I just found the music for that.

Ames also said that you're country. He said you're a country singer and that you had to go to a place where you could be a little bit of a winner.

Well, I am just a little bit of a winner and a country singer, and I'm not a country singer. They wanted me to be more of a country singer. They wanted me to be more of a country singer.

Well, I am just a little bit of a winner and a country singer, and I'm not a country singer. They wanted me to be more of a country singer. They wanted me to be more of a country singer.

'American Idol' loser is a winner in most Oscar-nominated film this year dreams?

 Jennifer's a very healthy soul. I only eat chicken, fish and turkey on most days. I don't even eat pork. But for Effie I had to change it a little bit and eat chicken and turkey and you eat all over the place, and I got away with it. Because I had to gain and maintain the weight. I found the biggest challenge was that gaining or losing weight, was to maintain the weight. Anyway, I lost 100 pounds, I was like, "Nep, you gotta pinch up." It was hard because of all the changes, but I was happy to do it.

When you were in "American Idol," you were the favorite. How did you feel about that?
 You just needed to be able to put the difference between Effie's song and the other girl's song. I don't think it was a stretch about "I Am Telling You" being a little bit of a winner. It was just as you could see the difference.

Was one of the biggest sacrifices for you in this, wearing the outfit in the "I Am Telling You" number?

Well, that outfit was the worst thing in my life. Off my feet, I don't know what they were thinking. I had like 100 pounds on me, and then I had these 100 pounds on me, and when you're like that and you're singing, it's not a good thing.

Then I had those shoes that were custom-made. Don't ever get shoes that are custom-made to fit you. I don't know, it took at least four people to put the shoes on my feet. That's how uncomfortable it is. I just don't want to look like that. That was the most painful, and that was the longest night of my life.

What was your favorite time period and look for Effie?

I think it was when she was through her trying times, because it was really real. Of course, we got the platinum and the gold, but I think the outfit, giving up the shoes to the bottom of the line. That was one of my favorites.

Was this role a tribute to any of the big musical movies you came before you, like "Boyz n the City"?

In "Boyz n the City," the first thing that came to mind was "Boyz n the City." I had the idea for this movie from "Boyz n the City," and when I first got a hold of it, I was like, "It's a whole other place. But I put on a lot of dedication and a lot of love to my career. I was like, 'I'm not a country singer. I'm not a country singer. I'm not a country singer.'"

It's not a country singer, is it?

Well, I am just a little bit of a winner and a country singer, and I'm not a country singer. They wanted me to be more of a country singer. They wanted me to be more of a country singer.

Almost winners

They were all set to win the competition but they crashed and burned on the last leg

By Miss Mari M. Sison
Jed's Correspondent

PRACTICING THIS ISN'T THAT BAD, MY PUP! "The Amazing Race Asia" contestants Andrew Tan, 26, and Syren Park, 26, are really really bad.

After all, it seemed as if they were all set to win the competition. Their performance was really good for the most part. Their fellow contestants also called the hapless grifters out "the team to beat." And, of course, they had a huge time advantage, having walked in the previous leg of the race. But by they lost out at the most crucial hour trying to find their way to Kuching.

Despite being dominated by their less fortunate rivals at their performance (after all,

"It is a game that really plays with you."

ALMOST: Last race winners Andrew Tan and Syren Park

STORY'S about a happy couple: "Have you up, don't be nervous!"

normally, if you keep winning, pretty big and come to first or second in every leg, you naturally tend to become confident and there is a higher chance of being nervous. We did really well all throughout the run and came first in the second last leg. Maybe it would not come in this last, things would have been different. It is a game that requires 1/2 intelligence, 1/2 chance and an edge, and 1/2 luck.

Now that the race has ended, the contestants have gone back to their normal lives. Andrew Tan is now again working as a marketing executive, while Syren is an Australian of business degree...is still busy in a business development program.

Here's an excerpt of a phone conversation they had with the team that drove them.

Are you still together?

Andrew Tan (AT): We're still together.

AT: You guys going to get married soon?

AT: We don't have money to get married.

Syren Park (SP): Hahaha.

The other people try to ask you and you claim?

AT: We're together all the time...

What's the most difficult competition?

AT: They're going to say that I don't know.

SP: Andrew was right about Alan. We had a hard time.

Should have been a different team just?

SP: I think you have to go with someone very much like you.

And you both said that?

AT: We were hoping to be in a disappointing show we didn't.

SP: We performed really well. We thought we'd win.

And someone had the going up?

AT: No.

SP: No way.

How are you better than Randy and Michael?

AT: I don't know, we're better.

What's the best lesson you learned from the competition?

AT: Always give 100 percent. Even if you lose, don't lose the last leg.

SP: Have you up, don't be nervous!

to come.

Is Alan the one?

AT: I don't know, I haven't met anything.

What's your first love?

AT: I don't know, I haven't met anything.

Are you nervous in the future?

AT: I don't know, I haven't met anything.

Did you discover something new about each other?

AT: I don't know, I haven't met anything.

What's your next goal who approach you now?

AT: I don't know, I haven't met anything.

Pilata set to launch song tilt

By Neil Viana

SHE HAS RECORDED TWO ALBUMS OF THE country's greatest hits, but singer Pili Pilata is not giving up yet.

"I've now looking for a creative partner," she said because frustration is an endemic industry. "This is why I am launching my own songwriting group."

Pilata, 37, said song composition, as he managed by Allmusic Productions Inc., is tapping into the vast pool of talent from around the world, according to the singer.

"I have received thousands of tapes of original compositions from composers I have met during my travels throughout the years," said Cordeiro. "They must see to know to know that song and possibly know them. So I thought of coming up with this contest to have some talent through a panel of judges that would determine which songs should be recorded."

Her own lyrics

This is an ordinary songwriting tilt, the singer said.

Cordeiro has written lyrics for 11 songs—in English, Spanish and Filipino. "I am looking for two different melodies to match each of the lyrics," she said. "The lyrics could also be translated into any language as long as the essence of the composition is intact."

Amateur and professional songwriters are welcome to join, she added. There is no limit on the number of entries that a composer can send. All song will be charged for each local entry. $12 for each entry from abroad.

"Songs value what they pay for," Cordeiro explained. "That's why we're charging a fee." Each song should not be more than five minutes long, she said. Melodies will be judged on originality, melody and appeal.

"We must avoid the usual of the judges' eye," Cordeiro said, "but they will still be the decision and record ourselves."

The contest will be included into 20-song album under an international label by 2008 before the singer embarks on a world concert tour.

Tie-up with lyrics

Cordeiro's husband, Carlos Lopez, said he was looking for a tie-up with local singers to sponsor songwriters from their cities or states.

"This way we can extend the reach of the competition to the power of the press," Lopez said.

The mechanics of submissions have yet to be finalized pending the posting of the website for the contest.

Lopez said he wants the contest to be well-timed online. The application form will also be posted on the website, along with other details.
